The high school junior hockey team played a game with Wetaskiwin on Saturday, and were beaten.

No ladder showed up in town on Saturday to buy the farm lands located near Springfield which Mr. Whitehead offered for sale.

Mrs. W. Ratledge, of Jarrow, who has been visiting with her son J. J. Few, returned home the other day.

Ed. Hinkley and George Dick Clark are attending the school trustees convention in Medicine Hat.

Both are powerful on the platform, and no doubt will see that Ponoka gets her rights.

The Women's Auxiliary will meet at the home of Mrs. T. Richardson on Wednesday, February 4th, at 8 p.m.

Messrs Reynolds and Moulaby, two Lehighville boys—a boy and a girl—are doing business in the Herald office on Monday.

E. B. Stary, of Springfield, sold a load of hogs in town Monday and netted $195.35. Now, for one load, can this be beaten. Why, let us all go farming and reduce the cost of living.

T. O. Ross has purchased the O. J. Jones farm in the Eastside district, and thus one gallant Welshman succeeds another. The other day the neighbors turned out and had a bee, the outcome being that a nice house and barn has been erected.

At the Oldfellows meeting on Monday, the 19th, resolutions of condolence were ordered sent to G. Goodman and Frank Cornell and their respective families as a mark of respect and sympathy in their recent bereavement.

The "Knave Quartette," Wetaskiwin (Mrs. Montgomery, Mrs. Poock, Messrs E. R. Jenkins, and J. N. Knight) have kindly consented, with the aid of Miss Mcintosh of Wetaskiwin, and O. Williams, of Ponoka, to give a concert, under the auspices of the Philo-Sop Society on Friday evening, February 6, at 8 o'clock in the new Opera Hall. Tickets, 50c; children, 25c. Fine treat of vocal and instrumental music. Full programme next week.

Saturday it turned cold, and has remained so. It is helping the coal man and wood merchant out wonderfully.

M. Madden, railway contractor, is visiting with Contractor D. C. McLean.

There are several items in the town minutes worth reading. One is the placing of the town clock in the town hall, and the building of a fire-proof vault for the keeping of the town's books.

The farmers' convention, held in Lethbridge last week, has been pronounced a success, and the local delegates who attended are most enthusiastic.

G. A. Canston, who has been surveying with the C.N.R. for the past two years near Mountain House, is visiting in town for a few days, prior to going to Peace River Creek with a survey. Mr. Canston has travelled over a great deal of the west, and is very enthusiastic over the new parts which are being opened up.

Professor C. S. Robinson, of Calgary, will be in town every Tuesday from 11:20 p.m. till Wednesday at 1:25 p.m., to hold dancing classes. Classes 450 to 6 and 720 to 9.30. It is important that you should join at the beginning.

As no reduction is given for seasons tickets, classes opens February 3rd in the Opera House. For particulars apply to J. J. Few.

A DOG WILL LIVE—An unusual incident occurred on the Pleasant View Farm last week.

J. D. had an occasion to go to the north end of his farm, and one of his dogs followed him, but did not return. After an absence of five days and nights a search was made, and the dog was found in a wolf trap. The dog still lives under the care of the family doctor, and is improving rapidly.

BIRTHS

FIRE BRIGADE

A public meeting was held in the town hall Friday evening with a view to re-organizing the fire department. Mayor Durkin presided, and there was a fair attendance.

After considerable discussion it was decided to have a volunteer brigade, and the officers appointed were—Chief, M. G. Neff; assistant chief, J. J. Few; captain of engine, S. Tuzman; captain of hose company No. 1, Dan Campbell; captain of hose company No. 2, H. H. Hart; captain of chemical engine, G. Stentenberg; captain of hook and ladder company, J. W. O'Brien; secretary, G. N. Field.

A number of citizens signed the roll, and it is expected that, in the course of a day or two, the list will be largely augmented.

THE HEADLEY-FEW HALL

More than a word is deserving Messrs Headley & Few on the occasion of their splendid public hall. It reflects credit on their enterprise, and is a great acquisition to the town.

Standing on Railway Street, one of the best sites in town, it shows to good advantage. The building is 26,000 sq. ft., ceiling stage 18'6", there are four exits—two on the side and two in front. A neatly fitted up ticket office, and two commodious cloak rooms, while arrangements have been made for the installation of a furnace by another year. The interior of the hall is well finished, a neat gallery running across the east end. A feature is the lighting arrangements, nothing being wanting in this respect.

The Herald joins with many others in congratulating the owners on their enterprise, and may they go on and prosper.

Building operations were commenced on December 10th and finished January 17th, surely a most creditable performance, which Geo. Beal, who had charge of the work, and his staff of workmen are to be commended for. In having such workmen in our midst there is no need of going elsewhere in order to get work done.

Found Dead

Sunday morning Fred Cillman was found dead in his slack, which is located on the east line, near B. Holloway's house. He had been sailing for several months, and came home from an Edmonton hospital on Friday. Not seeing light in the house Sunday evening, nor any sign of smoke Sunday morning, Mr Holloway went to make enquiry, and found the lifeless remains on a chair beside the empty stove. It is supposed that death took place on Saturday afternoon. Dr Bell, the coroner, was called, and the funeral took place Tuesday.

Deceased was about fifty years. He came to Alberta from Oklahoma some ten years ago, bought a near Red Deer, and about a year ago purchased an acre from Cook Myr where he erected a small house and kept poultry. But little is known of his past, or of any relatives. He was of German nationality.

Rev. Mr. Wright, the leader in building the Methodist Church, gave a fine sermon on Sunday evening, Jan. 1.

Miss Johnson is stopping with Mrs. Joe Marshall.

Miss E. Marshall is visiting here. Mrs. Jean Stott left down at the lake.

Mr and Mrs Fred Konner visited with the family's mother and family on Saturday afternoon.

Rev. Mr. Irwin has changed his boarding place. He is now with Mr. W. H. Wright.

The literary society has played out owing to so few turning out to keep up the debate or help in a programme.

Mr Walker saved wool for Glen Marshall and his father on Saturday. Mr Walker will finish his job for Will Craig on Monday.

On Wednesday evening last officers prayer meeting, the officers were elected for the year for the Sunday School. Mrs. Ludwig was re-elected superintendent, Mr Brooks, secretary, and Ruth Tugart, organist.

Ada Reed was thrown from a horse last Friday and had her eye badly hurt. She was taken to Bentley for treatment.

Best Saunders received a cut on the face one day last week while in the woods getting wood.

Mrs. Craig was a visitor at school last Friday afternoon, and was well pleased with the children's performance. If more of the older people saw the pupils, would attend such things, it would be more encouraging to the children.

Mr Bowker is now teaching school at the Mount. Kewla.

HOME MARKET SAVED
STATES FROM DISASTERA Glance at Development in the United States—Early Industrial History—Jefferson and the Tariff

In recent years, 1807-1814, when excluded from the markets of Europe by Napoleon's Berlin Decree, and Great Britain's retaliatory acts, American trade was reduced. The exports fell from $112,000,000 to a little over seven millions. There was a financial crisis and even the government lost credit. A government loan for seven and a half millions failed miserably, only one-third being subscribed.

Manufactures Necessary

The United States was forced to build up a home market or else perish.
Her protective policy dates from long before the Jefferson had said:
"He therefore who is now against domestic manufactures must be for reducing us either to a dependence on a foreign nation or to be clothed in skins and like wild beasts in dens and caverns." It is equally true of Canada that manufactures are necessary to our independence as our comfort. By the time of the Civil War, 1861-65, the United States had produced a home market principally due to the tariff. The tariff was the chief source of wealth in the South was the source of raw materials. Accordingly, during a period of national calamity far worse than that of the Napoleonic wars, there was no financial crisis in the North. The population actually increased three millions. In the South the country, the loss of the export foreign trade brought bankruptcy to the Confederate States. The North, with a superior vitality due to her market resting on the two pillars of agriculture and manufacturing industry, emerged from a devastating war with a new era of prosperity.

Lesson to Canada

These two chapters of United States history are not without an important lesson upon present-day Canada.
With the balance of trade so immen-sely against us as it is, it is certain that in the event of serious European complications and the loss of our foreign markets our only anchor in the storm would be our home market.
That is our power of self-help. Nothing else would keep our farmers and manufacturers from being swept headlong into a bottomless abyss of economic stagnation. It is this era of international peace and British naval supremacy Canada should make the best of the opportunities to secure its economic independence. There can be no greater incentive to increase production than the sale and new markets in the neighborhood of the American coast, no stronger stimulus than the prospect of farms to till.

NEW FACTORIES

Crafting Progress in Industrial Property at Medicine Hat

According to the Calgary "Standard" the steel for the new plant of the Saskatchewan Bridge and Iron Co., Limited, at Medicine Hat is now being erected so that work can go on all winter. A new gas well has been completed, and the company will commence the erection of forty houses for its employees shortly. This is a factor in industrial development which is too often lost sight of. Every factory of any consequence means to the people nearby an increase in the population of one hundred in population to the town in which the industry is located.
That is, each merchant and every farmer in the neighborhood has one hundred more prospective purchasers for his products. One hundred more people have to be fed and clothed, and the volume of trade and traffic in the town in question increases proportionately.

Payroll Increased

The Ogilvie Flour Mills Company, Limited, which started grinding its new mill on July 2nd, found it necessary to put on another shift of men and the mill is now running at the full initial capacity of 2,000 barrels every twenty-four hours. In addition to the local and district demand, which Manager Armstrong states has been satisfactory, this mill has large orders on hand for England and the Orient.
For the latter a shipment of 2,500 sacks, sent out a short time ago, is being followed by another of 18,000 sacks, the first car of the latter order having been shipped to Hong Kong, China. One feature is the facility with which the mill, such as bran, shorts, etc., has been disposed of. Very often this is a problem with flour mills, but in this case the mill has not been able to keep pace with the orders. This indicates, in some degree, how the farmers are

RAILWAY ACCIDENT

Jackman, Mich., Jan. 25.—Five or more persons were killed and a score were injured, when Michigan Central passenger train No. 201 from Saginaw, d. in here at 10:10 p.m., collided head on with a freight train about three miles outside the city. The baggage car and a fire coach of the passenger train were crushed and every passenger in the coach was either killed turning more and more to diversified farming and stock raising.

The Ideal Policy

It is gratifying to see such rapid progress in the industrial development of Medicine Hat. Medicine Hat is not the only Western city that is beginning to show the fruits of the stable trade policy which Canada has maintained for the last twenty years.
Gratified reasonable encouragement, Canadian industries will expand and increase in number until we approach the point where we can take care of most of our home market. That is the ideal towards which the policy of the country should be directed, rather than the transference of our manufacturing enterprises to foreign countries.

IDLE WORKMEN
IN THE STATESOne Serious Result of the Wilson Tariff, as Set Forth by a Chicago Importer

According to the Chicago "American" of November 11st, the Wilson Tariff will not prove to be a great boon to those who work for a living —and they will soon find it out. A Chicago importer writing to the "American" says:
"The new tariff means that manufacturers in this country must complete more closely with the manufacturers in Europe. And that means, of course, that workmen in this country must compete more directly with workmen in Europe. I know something about the making and selling of cloth, from the mill and as a finished product. And here are three facts. The new tariff will save money for those that are prosperous—but buy their things in Europe—or buy expensively imported European products. The new tariff will not save a dollar in the cost of living or dressing for the masses of workmen and the little people of middle income.
And the tariff will deprive of work many thousands of those that work for a living in this country. Thousands of men whose work has been done in America and sold in America, will lose their present employment, for the reason that the work that they have been doing will be done in Europe and sold in America. Just with the importations of woolen goods, for instance, into this country."

A Blow to Industry

The new tariff means that one third of all the looms in the United States will be shut down. That means that one-third of all the human beings earning a living at the looms will have to find some other way of earning a living. It is not pay for them and cheerful for those who realize that the welfare of a country depends absolutely upon the welfare of the mass of the population. You know that when workers in this country are brought into direct competition with workers in another country they must accept the pay of the foreign workers or give up the work. You know, also, that an employer cannot successfully reduce wages. You cannot maintain your business in this country and carry over your enterprise with a lot of disappointed workers. You cannot be successful. Therefore, the only thing that a manufacturer can do when he finds it necessary to cut down wages in order to reduce foreign competition is to close his mill or his factory absolutely. Then, after a while, he can open it up again and employ men at new wages. And that is what a great many will have to do. This country is a big enterprise, a business enterprise, a manufacturing enterprise. It goes slowly on a certain base. Many of those who work for a living and the manufacturers who have tried to build up industries in this country are going to realize that experimenting with settled conditions is dangerous."

The Lesson is Plain

Those who have seen the production of woolen cloth in Canada decline from an average of $12,000,000 per year in 1886, when the population of the country was only about five millions, to $4,000,000 in 1916, when the population was eight millions, can realize the force of the Chicago "American's" argument. When an English workman is willing to accept cloth at less than one-half the wages at which a Canadian workman will make it, some form of protection must be afforded the Canadian workman and his family unless we wish to reproduce the conditions which prevail in the crowded centers of Great Britain. If the British preference was still further increased, as has been advocated, no rich would be made in Canada, and we would be perpetuating the low wage conditions which prevail in English woolen mills.

or injured. All available doctors were rushed to the scene of the wreck from this city. Several of the wounded were brought to hospital here on an interurban car, the line of which parallels the Michigan Central tracks at that point. Owing to the darkness the work of rescue was slow and difficult. Two hours after the collision a number of passengers were still in the wreckage, and it is believed some of these may also be dead.

LETTER TO EDITOR

SCHOOL AFFAIRS

Ferrybank, Alta., Jan. 25 Mr. Editor,—If you will grant me space, I will reply to A. R.
Johnston's comment on the conduct of our school affairs last season.

In the first place all school trustees are open to a certain amount of criticism, and we had expected to get our share. But what seemed most out of place were the false statements made in regard to the teacher, or girl, as Mr.

Johnston chose to term her, whom he states he is not certain.

Now, I would like to ask him where he got his information as that statement is most decidedly untrue, that girl is at present teaching at a much better salary than was offered her by the Ferry-bank Board of Trustees, and has resolved certificates.

Just a word of advice as Mr.
Johnston is not a taxpayer. I think he is not entitled to a seat on the board. But if that obstacle could be overcome, we might elect him and have our school run in a proper manner.

Yours respectfully
A. R. STEVENS

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given to the local improvement districts, that on and after the first day of June, 1914, I will fence by my corner mound of the south side of the South-west of 6-45-27, W. 4, and all forces on my second after that date will be held by me. Again giving the Local Improvement districts concerned notice to have all obstructions removed up to the late survey.
